

MICROHABITAT

THE URBAN FARMING COMPANY

About us

MicroHabitat is a leading urban farming company dedicated to transforming unused spaces into thriving urban farms. They offer a full-service approach to urban agriculture, including the creation and operation of urban farms, as well as educational activities and promotional content. MicroHabitat aims to build a healthier society by reconnecting people with nature and providing sustainable and ecological solutions for urban living.

5 key takeaways

1. Urban Farming Expertise: MicroHabitat has established over 140 farms across multiple cities, utilizing their ultra-light technology and expertise in implementing urban farming projects on various types of properties.
2. Farming Techniques: MicroHabitat employs techniques that maximize space efficiency, resource conservation, and crop yields.
3. Community Engagement: MicroHabitat prioritizes community engagement and offers educational activities, workshops, and customized corporate gifts to inspire and mobilize communities towards sustainable practices.
4. Sustainable Practices: MicroHabitat emphasizes ecological approaches to urban farming, using no chemicals, implementing symbiotic relationships in the natural environment, and incorporating sustainable practices like rainwater harvesting and renewable energy sources.
5. Customer-Centric Approach: MicroHabitat values its customers and strives to exceed their expectations through exceptional customer service, flexible scheduling, and efficient services that prioritize their unique needs and goals.

For more information about MicroHabitat and their innovative urban farming solutions, visit www.microhabitat.com or contact them at info@microhabitat.ca